Hello from Pokemon.com

Hello!

Your child has attempted to create a Pokémon Trainer Club account at Pokemon.com. To protect the safety and privacy of your child's online activities, US law requires that a parent or guardian authorize creation of the account.

As your child's parent or guardian, you must have a Pokémon Trainer Club account so you can manage the privacy settings of your child's account. Once you have a Pokémon Trainer Club account, you can create an account for your child. After you do so, your child will be able to access his or her account on his or her own.

If you already have a Pokémon Trainer Club account, please sign in at Pokemon.com, then create your child's account. If you don't have a Pokémon Trainer Club account, please create one at Pokemon.com.
